We conduct a comprehensive review of your medical complaint in order to determine the proper treatment for you.

We will review with you all ultrasound findings and establish a treatment plan that is specifically for you. We will discuss all treatments in detail, including benefits, risks, and alternatives. We will do our best to answer any questions you may have in a way that you can understand. We want you to leave our office with a full understanding of your vein problem and the available treatment options and with all questions answered.

We have a full line of compression garments and other aids to care for patients with venous disease available for purchase in the office.
